

From Non-Tech to GSoC, gng

yapped, yapping, and I still hate DSA

yeh padne wala, tera muuh kala, Gamma AI hi hai CHILLLL

About Me

I loved techy stuff, although

Lived in cave for first year,
same IIT fomo, and not getting the hang of right
people

Second Year, wasted in thinking, I am not having enough fun of college life

Third year, came and went....

asymmetry OCD :)

But, some right things which I did, play CSGO and watch Game of Thrones

GDG AKGEC and connecting with my Seniors, as stupid chhota bhai

Connection is not just LinkedIn connect, ganggg

Anchoring Events

Delhi GDSC WoW NCR 2025

Creative Writing

Writing Unhinged, unprofessional and HR complainable stuff

Managing Stuff

Working with our super cool GDG Team and organizing events

Grasping the Power of Community

Turns out, the best way into tech isn't through YouTube; it's through people and shared snacks.

The Community Hubs

Discovered legendary groups like ACE, SheBuilds, GDG, and CNCG. They weren't just about code.

Collab > Coding

Initially, I learnt collaboration, communication, and problem-solving—skills that transcend the tech stack.

People Over Products

The biggest realization: Communities build people before they build revolutionary products.

Finally this phase,

AAJ KUCH TOOFANI KARTEY HAIN

It started innocently: a quick look, a small fix, and suddenly, I was trapped in the best way possible.

The Commit

I want to do Concrete work, not just hawabaazi

The Open Source Hook

Found Open Source and fell in love with the immediate, tangible impact. It felt global.

Right People matters

The pivot was real. From just speaking about tech to actually contributing to it on a global scale.

Global Contribution

Applying my unique perspective to projects that impact users worldwide.

Learning the Why

Focus shifted from the what (the syntax) to the why (the problem statement and design).

Ditch AI, and read Docs

Achieving GSoC 🎉

Successfully secured a spot in Google Summer of Code

“You don’t need to chase trends – chase curiosity and go deep, please.”

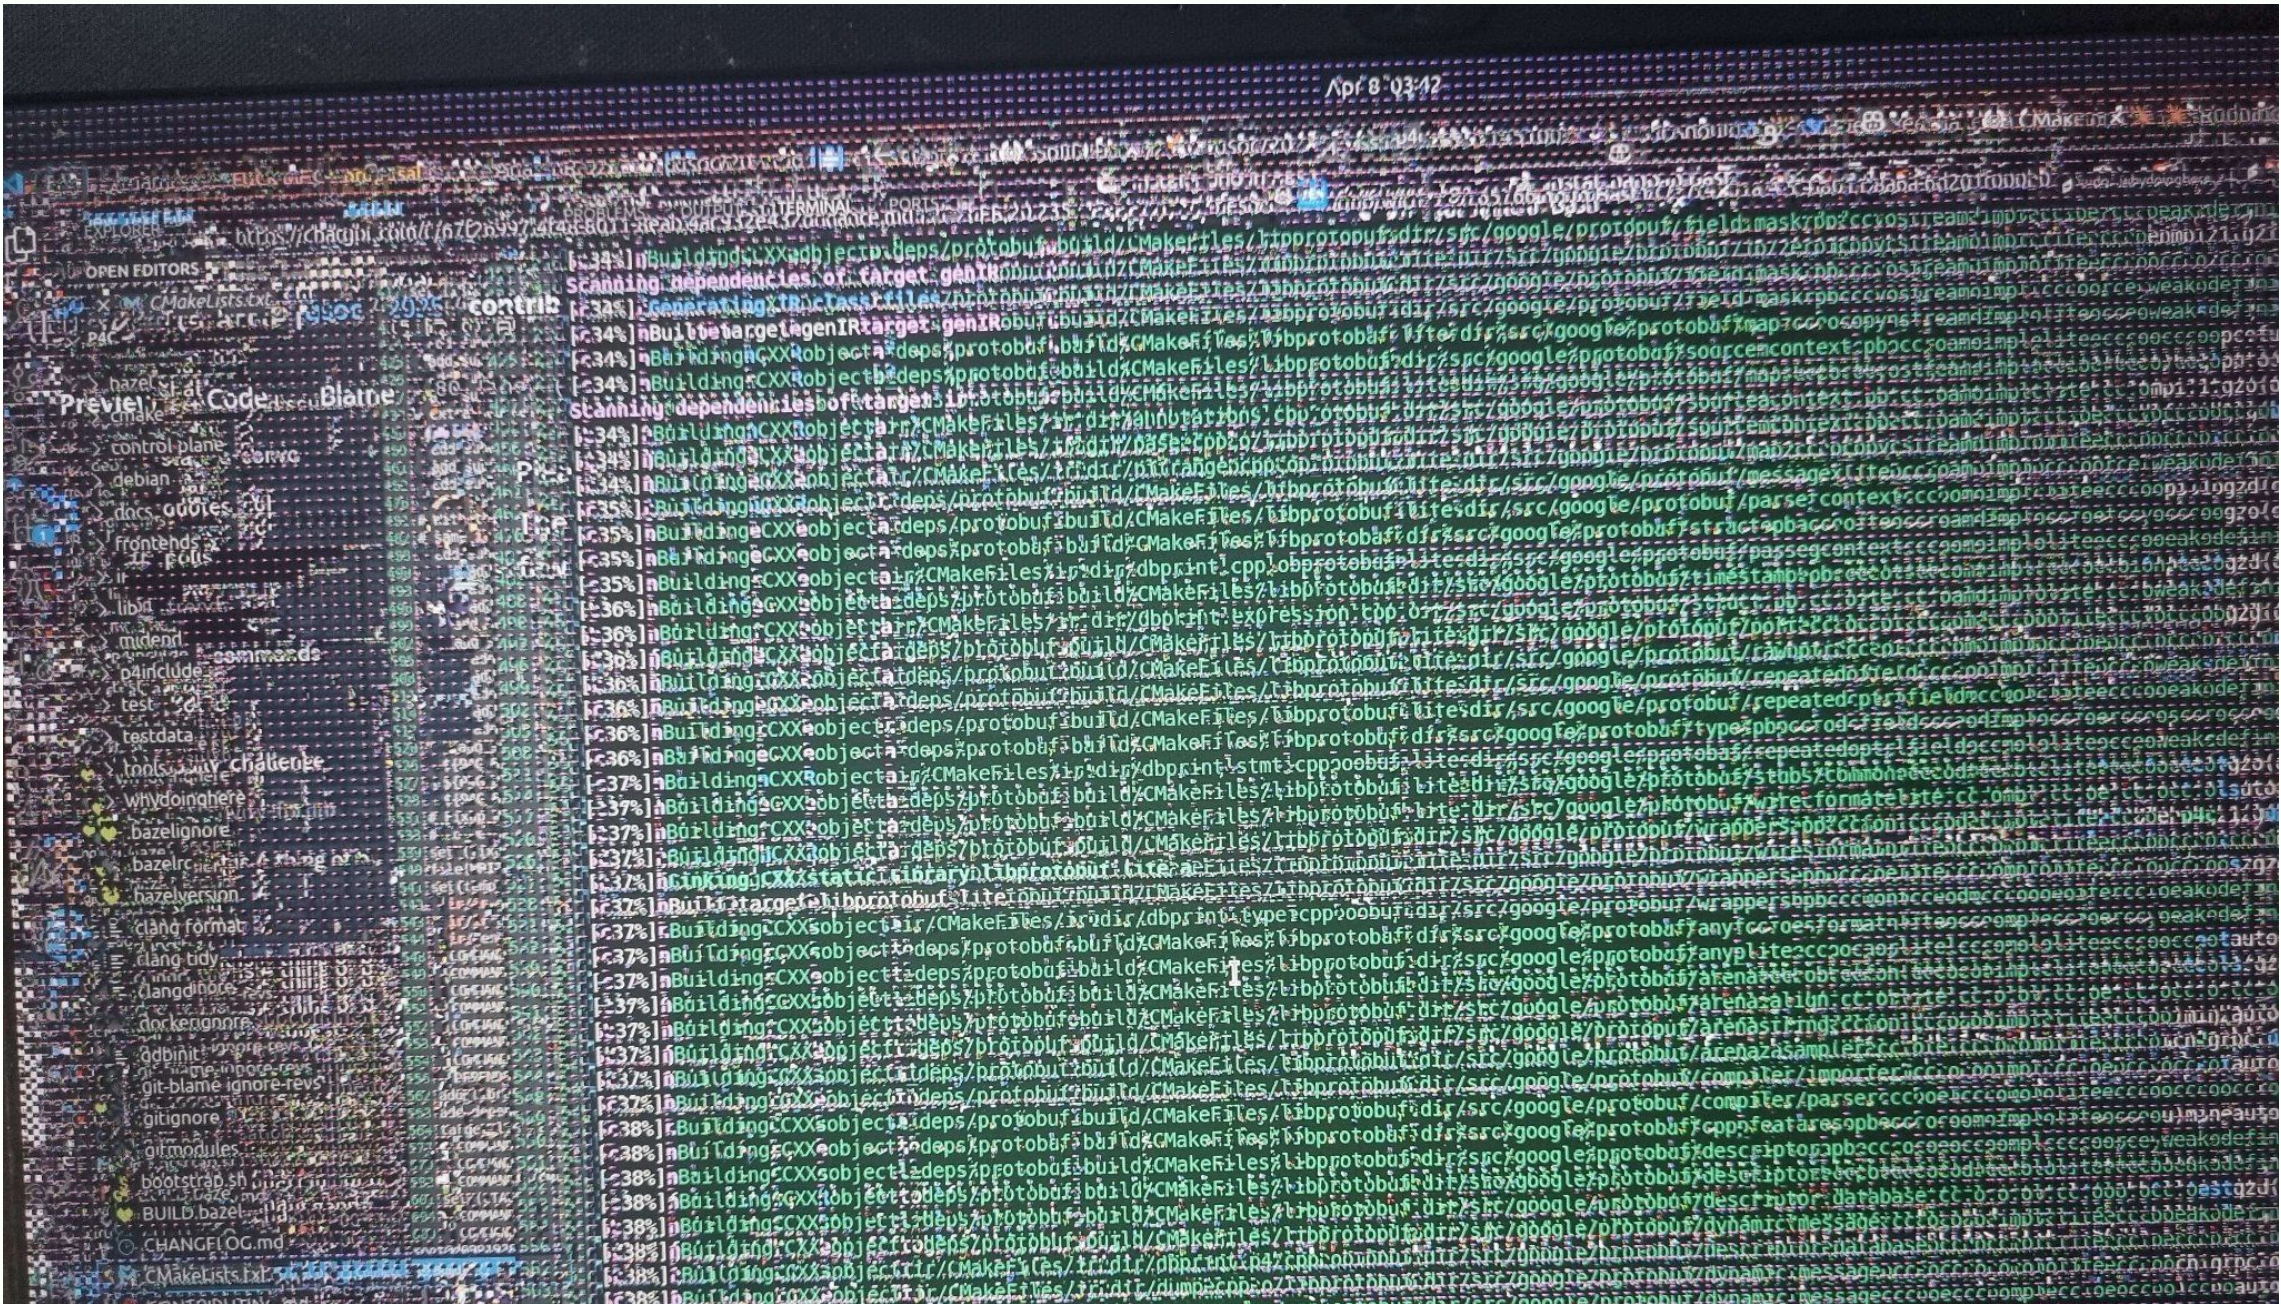

All glitters are not gold, fr

Expectation:

ChatGPT was hurt here, yes

Reality:

Giving back to Community!

The Full Circle Moment

From community anchor to an open-source contributor, my journey proves that transferable skills are the real superpower.

Jab Jaago tab Saveraa

If I can switch lanes and embrace the chaos of code, so can you.

The barriers are lower than you think, trust me!

The Roadmap: A Quick Scroll

why rely on me, when you can look for yourself at roadmap.sh

The Non-Tech Era

Life before VSCode: speakers, writers, and good vibes only. 🎤

The Kick Moment

When curiosity accidentally led to open source. 💣

Connect & Inspire

Key takeaways and next-level collabs. 🤝

Community Glow-Up

🔗 Finding the tribe, learning the power of collaboration.

The GSoC Era 🚀

Concrete dreams and global contributions.

Arigato Gozaimasu

Point thy device at yon square to reach mine realm

Arre QR scan, krro fas-fas, to connect with me

