An important contribution from Ubuntu LoCo Team → FLISoL

FLISoL, an acronym for Festival Latinoamericano de Instalación de Software Libre (Latin American free software install fest), is the biggest event for spreading “Free Software” since 2005, organized simultaneously in different countries of Latin America. In 2012, more than 290 cities from 20 countries of Latin America participated on a FLISoL.

Since 2007 the Ubuntu Colombia Community are participating in the event.

Why do we do all this work?

Communities are places for human beings:

- To share
- To make friends
- To learn
- To grow
- To build networks

TRANSLATION

What’s next?

- Focus on Linux for Human beings.
- To Impact more people and spread the Ubuntu Voice.
- To grow and strengthen the community and reduce pandemic inertia.
- To increase diversity (close the gender gap) in the community.
- Contribute to the international Ubuntu Community.

Canonical support for communities has been fundamental for what we have shared, we hope Canonical continue supporting communities all over the world and help to maximize the impact of Ubuntu in people’s lives.
